

FREE APPLICATION FOR FEDERAL STUDENT AID (FAFSA)

What is the FAFSA?

The FAFSA is an application used to collect information to determine your eligibility for financial aid awards.

What information will be collected?

The FAFSA has four main sections of required information:

1. General student information (such as your name, date of birth, etc.)
2. Dependency status (Dependent or Independent)
3. Information about your parent (if applicable)
4. Information about you, the student (and spouse if applicable)

Additional information collected includes the college you attend and your housing plans.

Your signature is required (as is your parent's if you are dependent). Your signature for the online FAFSA is a four-digit Personal Identification Number (PIN). Get your PIN at <http://www.pin.ed.gov>.

When can you file your FAFSA?

- You can start filing your FAFSA beginning January 1, 2012.
- The filing year is 2012-2013 with a priority deadline of May 1, 2012.
- You have to fill out a FAFSA every year.

How do you file your FAFSA (apply for financial aid)?

- Apply online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>. The website will help you understand what documents you need to get started.
- Don't have a computer? Visit your local Financial Aid Office: <http://www.dcccd.edu/FinancialAidOffices>.

Why should you file online?

- DCCCD does not accept paper FAFSAs.
- You can choose the option of using the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Data Retrieval (available February 2012).
- It includes built-in tools to prevent errors and in-depth instructions for common questions.
- The FAFSA has "skip logic" that lets you skip questions you don't need to answer.
- You will be able to check your application status online.
- It is a simpler application process.

Facts About Tax Information – (IRS Data Retrieval)

While you are online filling out your FAFSA, you can choose to use the new IRS Data Retrieval feature. We encourage you to use this process in order to simplify the Verification process.

- Using this process can reduce errors and documents requested by the Financial Aid Office.
- When you submit the request, the IRS will confirm your identity.
- If your tax record is found, the IRS sends real-time results to you in a new browser window.
- You then can choose whether or not to transfer your information to FAFSA on the Web (FOTW).
- IRS Data Retrieval feature will be available in early February for the 2012–2013 award year.

The Department of Education expects a delay of two weeks if you file your tax return electronically and a delay of six weeks for paper returns! Beginning with the 2012-2013 award year, if you do not use IRS Data Retrieval or change transferred IRS information before submitting your FAFSA on the Web (FOTW), you will need to request transcripts from the IRS to verify your tax information.

How do you and/or the school get your FAFSA information?

- By email: If you provided an email address on your FAFSA, the U.S. Department of Education will send you an email with a link. You can click on this link to see your FAFSA (called the Student Aid Report [SAR]).
- By paper/mail: If you did not provide an email address on your FAFSA, the U.S. Department of Education will send a copy of your FAFSA (called the Student Aid Report [SAR]) to the mailing address you listed on the FAFSA.
- Your FAFSA is also sent to the colleges you listed when you filled out the FAFSA. This takes about 10 to 14 days after your FAFSA is submitted. When the school gets your FAFSA, it is called the Institutional Student Information Record (ISIR).
- We cannot receive your FAFSA unless your DCCCD application has been accepted with your Social Security number.

If you are selected for Verification, you must complete the Verification process. If you do not finish the Verification process, we cannot calculate your financial aid eligibility. You can review informational handouts about Verification at <http://www.dcccd.edu/FAhandouts>.
